Effects of radiation-induced DNA damage on mouse embryonic stem cells. Mouse embryonic stem (ES) cells are useful tools in basic research, especially in molecular genetics, and as a potential model for carcinogenesis and radiation carcinogenesis. In this study, we investigated the effects of radiation-induced DNA damage on the survival of mouse ES cells and mouse blastocysts. DNA damage induced by X-ray irradiation to mouse ES cells resulted in a dose-dependent increase in the frequency of transformation-competent cells, a dose-dependent decrease in the proportion of ES colonies, and a dose-dependent increase in embryo lethality. In contrast, DNA damage induced by X-ray irradiation to mouse blastocysts did not significantly affect the frequency of transformation-competent cells, the proportion of ES colonies, and embryo lethality. However, mouse blastocysts irradiated with gamma-rays or X-rays showed a significant dose-dependent increase in the frequency of apoptotic cells in blastocysts. The results suggest that some intracellular conditions differ between mouse ES cells and mouse blastocysts, and that apoptotic cell death is a characteristic feature of mouse blastocysts. Pages Monday, February 27, 2018 Last week the City of Austin announced its first wave of 100 new Austin Energy electric vehicle charging stations. Austin Energy will install up to 100 electric vehicle charging station at locations where there are vacant spaces for public parking. The pilot program for the new stations is part of an Austin Energy Rebate program for EV owners, which is described here. Since the pilot program was announced it has become clear that the market in Austin is not yet ready for EV charging stations. There simply is not enough parking to install 100 new stations. The pilot program ends within 3 years and during this time Austin Energy will be able to install more station than it had targeted in its original plan. There will be no charge for the stations and as long as they are clean and in good condition, EV owners can continue to use them. This is a big step forward for EV charging and takes us one step closer to the day when the technology can be a part of the lives of most Austinites. Here is a link to the map of the first wave of new stations. They will be installed at parking garages and parking lots for example: Here is a link to the list of the first 20 stations. ## What's New in the Photoshop 2021 (Version 22.5.1)?

[Ectopic pregnancy after in vitro fertilization and embryo transfer]. A retrospective study of cases of ectopic pregnancy (EP) after in-vitro fertilization (IVF) was carried out to obtain statistical information on IVF in France. The data were obtained from the French IVF registry. A total of 34,040 IVF cycles were reported to the registry between January 1, 1996 and January 1, 2002. Among these, 175 ectopic pregnancies (5.2 per 1,000 cycles) occurred from implantation of embryos transferred after direct insemination or after in vitro fertilization with conventional culture. The peak of ectopic pregnancy incidence occurred at the end of the first trimester (12.5%), particularly during the third trimester (60%). An EP tended to occur in older patients and was more frequent in women with an earlier history of genital surgery. The rate of ectopic pregnancy was 11.4 per 1,000 women. This rate was higher than after embryo transfer with in vitro maturation (9.3 per 1,000 cycles). All of the patients with an EP were treated medically with methotrexate therapy, and 17 were treated with local injection of methotrexate. Conventional cesarian section was the preferred surgical approach. All of the pregnancies were diagnosed by ultrasound examination during the post-natal period. The rate of ectopic pregnancy is relatively high after IVF. This fact confirms the role of ovarian hyperstimulation and the use of high doses of gonadotropins. It is therefore essential to reduce this risk and the ectopic pregnancy rate by using strict selection criteria in patients, practicing strict regulation of the gonadotropins dose and monitoring. $NetBSD: patch-am,v 1.1 2004/07/20 14:37:43 dholland Exp $ Fix filemode in compat.c. --- compat.c.orig Thu Feb 22 04:00:00 2004 +++ compat.c Thu Feb 22 04:02:26 2004 @@ -54,7 +54,7 @@ * many are actually "weak" syscalls: */ if (err == EINVAL) { - err = EBADF; + err = EBADF; }
